CANADIANS FOREIGN BUYERS

Canadians buy more goods outside their own country than the citizens of any other important nation in the world. Here is the average amount which each citizen of the following countries bought abroad in 1911, the latest year for which comparative statistics are available.

Canada	$70.24
Great Britain	61.85
Argentina	47.39
France	29.30
Germany	26.17
United States	15.63
Austria	12.81
Russia	8.40

It seems incredible that every Canadian annually spends $70.24 for foreign goods while Russians only spend $8.40 each abroad. Canadians must cut down their foreign purchases and buy more goods produced in their own country or face national bankruptcy—Industrial Canada.

WHY BUY AT HOME?

The following reasons for purchasing at home were featured in a campaign recently put on by Peterborough retailers and manufacturers to encourage Peterborough citizens to buy in their own town. What Peterborough has done can be followed to good advantage by practically every town and city in Canada.

Because our interests are here.

Because the community that is good enough for us to live in is good enough for us to buy in.

Because we believe in transacting business with our friends.

Because we want to see the goods we are buying.

Because we want to get what we buy when we pay for it.

Because some part of every dollar we spend at home stays at home, and helps work for the welfare of our home town.

Because the home man we buy from stands back of the goods, thus always giving value received.

Because the man we buy from pays his share of the taxes.

Because the man we buy from keeps to support our poor and needy, our schools, our churches, and our homes.

Because when luck, misfortune or bereavement comes, the man we buy from is here with his kind expressions of greeting, his word of cheer, and if need be, his pocketbook.

Let us make Peterborough a good place in which to work and live.

THURSDAY, APRIL 20th, 1915

"BIG crops and big prices will put the western farmers on their feet this year, and provide an immense amount of money, when it once gets into circulation, will revive general business all over Canada."

This is the cheerful note sounded in Vancouver recently by Mr. W. P. Hinton, Assistant Passenger Traffic Manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, of Montreal.

"Mixed farming has long been considered the salvation of the western farmer; but mixed farming requires money, and plenty of it. The crops that will be garnered in next fall will provide the necessary capital for thousands of hard working tillers of the soil, and set them on their feet, so that not for years, if at all, will another depression visit Western Canada."

There is no doubt that Mr. Hinton hits the nail square on the head. A practical illustration of the truth of these remarks, was furnished to The Times recently, by a trip out in the country adjacent to Medicine Hat. Not far from this city, a deserted homestead was encountered upon which, in the past, a great deal of labor and money had been expended in an effort to raise a crop, but owing to bad years, the investment had yielded no return, and the occupant of the homestead had given it up in disgust. However, right across the roadway from the deserted farm, was a prosperous looking homestead, with good buildings and well cultivated lands, and The Times was not unnaturally led to ask how it was that of two adjoining farms, one should have been deserted, and the other prosperous. The explanation, however, was not long in coming. The prosperous farm had a herd of cows, whose milk and cream he had marketed in the city the year round; and when his crop of grain failed, he had been able to live fairly comfortably all through the lean years from the proceeds of the herd. He was a brawny, sun-tanned industrious looking son of the soil, and he had a family of well dressed and well cared for children. Everything about the place looked thriving. This man is putting in a crop all of his own land, and he has also secured the deserted farm and is putting crop on that too. This year's crop will put him on his feet.

The history of the settlement of Saskatchewan and Manitoba affords numerous instances of the fact that the farmer who stays with the game and farms industriously will win out in the end. In the Regina and Moose Jaw districts it is not very long since lean years drove the settlers to abandon their claims for a mere song; and the same lands are now worth from $25.00 to $40.00 per acre.

Mixed farming is to be the salvation of the farmers of Southern Alberta, and the wise ones will be those who, if they pull off a crop this year (and the indications that they will, could not be better) invest the proceeds by stocking up the farm with high grade horses, cattle, pigs, sheep and poultry, in the proportion that the prevailing market prices dictate to be the wisest.

Squaw corn has been proven by experiment to be a crop that will grow each year, and makes ideal winter fodder, but it is scarcely grown at all throughout the country.

No doubt, there will be those who, if they pull off a big crop of wheat this fall, will forget all their past troubles, and go ahead next year putting in another crop of grain, without protecting themselves against a failure by having something else to fall back upon. This is a procedure that is doomed to ultimate failure in this country. It is nothing short of a huge gamble, and gambling on wheat can only end in disaster.

Farmers in this district must, if they would be successful, turn their attention to mixed farming.—Morning Times.

NOTE—Secretaries of U. F. A's. Will you kindly communicate with the publisher of the Carlstadt News. We have a proposition that should be profitable.

The sale of farm implements and household effects of the late J. J. Cahill held on Saturday was well attended and good prices were secured. L. Dorsay, of Suffield, was the auctioneer.

It has been decided by a number of citizens of Brutus to ask Mayor Garbutt to hold a clear-up day; the city really is in a very dirty state. Bill Boyd has a second hand clothes store in his yard, Wesley McEwen has a large ash pile, Fred Eaton's yellow geared buggy is lying out in front of his house and the mayor's lawn is covered with old condensed milk tins and tomato cans.

J. C. Anderson, A. Truman, W. Elbert and Allan Brice, of Tripola, attended the sale Saturday.

S. Boyd and B. F. Berryman were Carlstadt visitors Monday.

George Turtle made a trip to the Dominion Farm Monday for his hay rack.

Captain Garbutt is holding an investigation into the rotten boots supplied to the boy scouts. We don't know what he intends to do about the matter, but the gallant captain intends to make trouble for the manufacturers who supplied the boots.

W. Bishop, our energetic butcher is doing a rushing business here. He purchased a lot of old scrap iron at the sale Saturday.

J. W. McLaughlin has rented the Cahill farm.

Call on Bill White if you want some nice er pork.
